YONAHIAN

Published by the

FOREWORD

With a longing eye into the past, and an eager look toward the future, we come to the end of another year. For some, it is their last and their long awaited graduation. For others, it is just the end of another year. Both have one thing in common, memories of their days in college.

The staff of the Yonahian has tried to include many of the events of the past year in the pages to come. We hope that as you look through this book, now and in the years to come, that it will hold fond thoughts of your time in college.

The 1964 Yonahian is the start of something we hope will be continued by future staffs. The staff has attempted to also record the progress of the school, so that when one looks back, he may see what has been done to improve the school. We at Piedmont are in the middle of a change—"a dream come true." First, the new classroom—administration building, then promised plans that would make anyone excited.

There are many things a yearbook should record—the activities, sports, functions, but most of all, the memories. Those things which, long after we have left school, can be looked back upon with fondness and appreciation.

The 1964 Yonahian staff hopes they have accomplished this goal.

DEAN RONALD E. WEITMAN

DEDICATION

Because your gaiety, warmth, and friendliness, like a tree in colorful autumn array, make our hearts glad;

Because your gentleness, like the lacy quality of snow-covered branches in winter,
is a consolation to us;

Because your spirit, like the fresh-budding leaves and blossoms of spring, gives hope to all who know you; and,

Because your character, respected and admired as a gigantic moss-draped oak in summer, makes us want to be like you —

To you, Dean Weitman, we proudly dedicate this, our 1964 YONAHIAN

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

A dream, long held and deeply cherished, is coming true here at Piedmont College—the dream of a more vital, a more effective, a more fruitful program of Christian higher education.

Farther over, in this Yonahian, you will see pictures of an unfinished classroom—administration building, being erected at a cost of $500,000.00. Before another Yearbook is in your hands, devoted teachers and eager students will have discovered the greater joys of this building completed, furnished, invested of a never-ceasing delight, an imposing diadem on our campus' crest.

That part of the Piedmont College dream will have come true!

Also, in this Yonahian, you will see pictures of our present women's dormitory, Babcock Hall. By this time next year, Deo Volente, an addition to Babcock Hall, more than doubling its present facilities, will be receiving the finishing touches, making it ready for our young women, who will be arriving for the 1964-65 academic year.

That part of the Piedmont College dream will have come true!

Then, a little farther off, but bright and beckoning, like lovely Ariadne, will be other parts of the Piedmont College dream coming true: an addition to our present E. Louise Patten Memorial Library; another new men's dormitory; a chapel; a fine arts—music, art, drama—building; a student union; a new field house and gymnasium; increased faculty salaries; larger endowment; swimming pools and tennis courts—in short, a dream coming true of Piedmont College, virile, puissant, matching its strength in Christian experience and academic excellence with the strength of the youth, whose eyes have caught the morning light that streams from the brows of these immemorial mountains.

On November 22, 1963, a tragic end came to our then President, who, himself, was a dreamer of dreams for his nation and for the world. In the sorrow of that epochal event, we feel doubly obligated to do our best to achieve.

"Beauty and friendship and the dream fulfilled.

"The golden answer to the deeply willed."

Yes, unashamedly, we, too, are dreamers of dreams—dreams for Piedmont College that are slowly, but surely, coming true; and, we encourage our youth to dream—fine dreams, vast dreams—for themselves, for their College, and for their world.

We invite you to share our dream—the dream that is coming true, by the grace of God and the prayers and generous help of friends, at Piedmont College.

MOUNT YONAH TRIP

What am I doing here?

I wish we would get going.

It doesn't say anything about plugs.

Well! Look who's here.

Oh! He's playing chief

Head'em up, move'em out.

What's this

Going someplace!

Not so fast, boys.

And he wants to sleep!!

What's holding us up?

Man! I'm beat.

I want to go, too.

Oh! George, you don't mean it.

Now, gang, here's the plan

Yankee mountaineers + one

So what if I'm hungry

Get bent!!!

Come and get it.

She has got to be kidding

I haven't been in woods before.

I really didn't mean I would kiss your foot.

She can't cook either.

Smile, LuLu

I am the Bear, understand

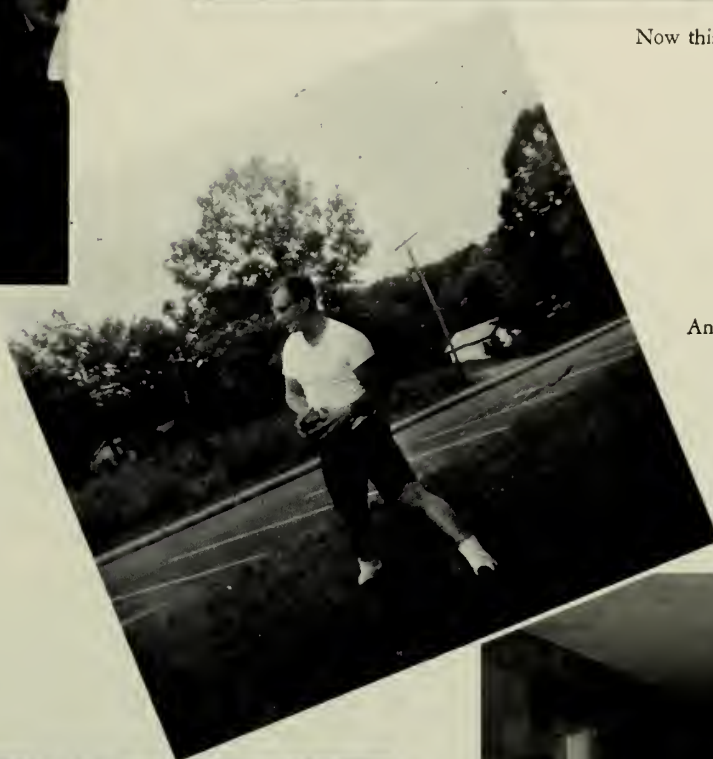

HOOTENANNY

Oh! My love

Now this is the way we do it.

And Y.A. thinks he's good.

Things can't be as bad as they say.

It's not as fast as the Pink Virgin.

FIELD DAY

When do we get to play.

Get serious!!

Three is a crowd

How do they do this!

Hey! You're going the wrong way

She'll never win with that form

I'll win or pop.

Hey, Look at me

Bill
Jumps

I'll show him a thing or two

How did they do that

FLAG SNATCH!

Let me in on this

Now, girls

This is the best I have ever seen.

This is fun

Hey!
Get out of there

You big . . .

No! She didn't kiss me.

He looks too fresh, Honey.

Is she some kind of nut.

That's the Flower girl!

Where is the bride

Ain't she purty.

Girls P.E. class

A little band is very nice

I wonder if he is as good as they say

Anyone for football.

Blue Blade in a mess

Mirror, mirtor, on the wall . . .

DANCE

Blow. Coker, blow

When do we eat.

If only I could read.

I wonder what she used for flour?

Dale gets a dunk.

Uh! Let me see.

Now what do we do.

Funny thing—it does have a verb.

Hey! Save some for me.

It doesn't say anything about Knock-knees.

This is ridiculous.

Do you have one for me.

Listening intently

Uhh???

Hi, I'm your friendly salesman

Hard to believe

Me Tarzan, where Jane

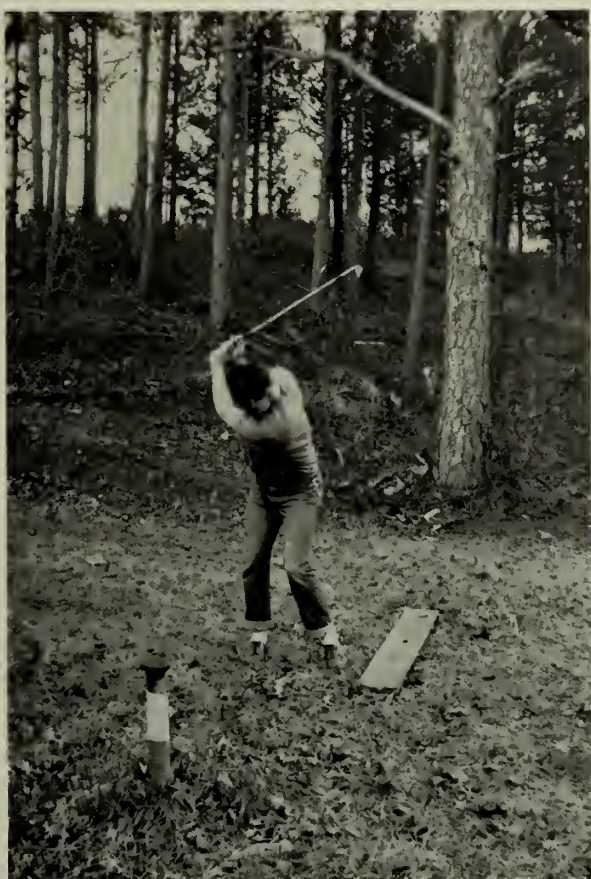

No! No! $2 + 2 = 4$

Ho! Hum! Almost ready

I wonder where the yellow went.

Someday I'll be as good as Palmer. I hope!

Turtle complains.
